

SECRET

TRAINING DIVISION

Ref Copy

DIRECTIVE

OTR VAULT COPY NO. 381

Subject No. 1-22-30/27

Type Lecture Hours 1 hr. 30 min. Date Issued 26 Sept 1950

School assignment TRD

Present to: Operations Course 1 August 1950
(class) (date)

Title of Subject: Clandestine Radio Communications

Purpose

To acquaint the student with the uses of radio in clandestine operations. To clearly point out the advantages and disadvantages of the use of radio. To cover, in detail, the basic problems of selection of radio sites, selection of operators, and the organization and planning of radio communications networks.

Scope and General Method of Presentation:

Presentation through lecture and class discussion. Scope of the subject is planned to familiarize, in detail, the student with the basic field problems and uses of clandestine radio. The material is chiefly concerned with agent and planning problems and does not consider specific types of radios or other purely technical aspects of the subject.

SECRET

Subjects with which Coordination is Required:

25X1A

This subject is coordinated with lectures on specific types of equipment and the technical aspects of radio operation as presented by [REDACTED] of the Communications Division. It is also coordinated with the lectures on General Principles of Clandestine Operations, Safehouses, Cutouts, Couriers, Concealment and Burial, and Live and Dead Drops.

References:

See Bibliography.